

Have your say and influence how we present workforce data and insights

Victorian
Public Sector
Commission

The Victorian Public Sector Commission wants to learn more about how you use the workforce data we collect each year for the people matter survey and state of the public sector reports.

How we'd like your help

In the week commencing Monday 2 August, we'll host a workshop open to anyone who uses our data on:

- what data or topics you find useful to better understand the public sector
- what data or insights you find useful for making decisions
- how you want to interact with data
- what data you think is missing about the public sector.

If you would like to take part, register for our workforce data experience workshop below.

Register your interest

Given name

Family name

Email

Organisation

Tell us how you use public sector data

Register your interest

