

PEOPLE MATTER SURVEY 2017

GUIDE FOR ORGANISATION HEADS
AND HUMAN RESOURCE DIRECTORS

VPSC

Victorian Public Sector Commission

The Victorian Government has vested the Victorian Public Sector Commission with functions designed to enhance the performance of the public sector – fostering the development of an efficient, integrated and responsive public sector which is highly ethical, accountable and professional in the ways it delivers services to the Victorian community.

The key functions of the Commission are to:

- strengthen the efficiency, effectiveness and capability of the public sector in order to meet existing and emerging needs and deliver high quality services; and
- maintain and advocate for public sector professionalism and integrity.

1. INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the 2017 People Matter Survey. This guide is designed to help Heads of organisations and Human Resource Directors complete the survey participation form for the 2017 People Matter Survey.

The guide also provides information on:

- the survey and timelines
- the reporting of results
- how anonymity is protected
- how we recommend promoting the survey within your organisation

We need to know whether or not you wish to participate in the survey. You will shortly receive an invitation email from our Commissioner containing a username and password enabling you to access the following web-based participation form:

<https://www.orima.com.au/vpsc/organisation/>

Can you please complete this by Friday 10 February 2017. Providing this advice by the due date is vital to our proceeding with arrangements to conduct the survey.

Please note: all Health Services, Victorian Public Service Departments, Victoria Police and the VPSC are mandated to participate annually. We recommend that all other organisations participate in the survey every two years.

Contact details

If have any questions about the survey, please contact us at:

Phone: (03) 9651 6200

Email: people.matter@vpsc.vic.gov.au

2. WHAT IS THE PEOPLE MATTER SURVEY?

The People Matter Survey gives our people the opportunity to express their views on how the public sector values and employment principles are demonstrated within their organisations by colleagues, managers and senior leaders.

As well as a core survey, six additional survey modules are offered for organisations seeking more in-depth information on: diversity and inclusion; wellbeing; change management; career intention; learning and development; and sexual harassment.

2.1 Benefits

The People Matter Survey plays a crucial role in supporting public sector organisations to build positive workplace cultures, founded on our shared public sector values and employment principles. It provides valuable information to help agencies become model employers that reflect the diversity of the Victorian community.

The survey allows your organisation to:

- understand the extent to which staff perceive that values, codes of conduct, employment principles and standards are demonstrated
- measure the level of staff engagement and job satisfaction
- understand staff views of leadership within your organisation
- better understand the demographic of your workforce
- compare results with like organisations and the broader public sector
- determine key areas where improvement is required
- help make changes to policies, processes and culture within the organisation to improve behaviours and practices

The survey provides the following:

- a suite of result reports (section 4)
- an option for you to add customised organisation structure/composition questions, enabling you to view results broken down by employee groups within your organisation
- the option for you to undertake survey modules to explore specific workforce topics in more detail
- employee and survey coordinator hotlines for technical support and survey questions
- a tool enabling your nominated survey coordinator to monitor your response rate during the survey to help maximise participation
- the option to personalise survey invitations, links and reminders
- flexibility about when you undertake your survey, in the period between 24 April and 26 May

2.2 Cost

Survey participation is free of charge, however costs may be incurred if your organisation:

- misses deadlines or makes substantive changes after these deadlines. A kit with detailed instructions and timelines will be sent to your nominated survey coordinator providing further guidance.
- seeks additional reporting
- seeks to alter the standard survey services described above

2.3 Themes covered by the core survey and additional modules

The following tables describe the themes covered by the core survey (Tables 1, 2 and 3) and optional survey modules (Table 4).

We encourage all organisations to undertake the wellbeing module.

Table 1 – Core survey: Public sector values

Area	Description
Integrity	Striving to sustain public trust by being open, honest and transparent, using powers responsibly, reporting unethical conduct and avoiding any real or apparent conflicts of interest.
Impartiality	Decisions based on merit without bias or self-interest and acting fairly and objectively.
Accountability	Working to clear objectives, accepting responsibility for decisions and actions, seeking to achieve best use of resources and being open to scrutiny.
Leadership	Demonstrating leadership by actively implementing, promoting and supporting these values.
Respect	Treating colleagues, other public officials and members of Victorian community fairly and objectively, ensuring freedom from bullying and harassment and using opinions to improve outcomes.
Responsiveness	Providing high quality services to the community, working toward best practice.
Human rights	Making decisions and providing advice consistent with human rights and actively implementing, promoting and supporting human rights.

Table 2 – Core survey: Employment principles

Area	Description
Merit	Employment decisions based on proper assessment of work-related qualities, abilities and potential against the requirements of the employment opportunities.
Fair and reasonable treatment	Decisions affecting employees are fair, consistent and objective, and are documented so as to be transparent and capable of review.
Equal employment opportunity	Decisions and actions affecting employees are not influenced by irrelevant personal characteristics.

Avenues of redress	Employees are provided with opportunities and avenues to have grievances addressed in a reasonable, effective and timely manner.
Career public service (VPS only)	How well the development of a career public service is fostered in your organisation.

Table 3 – Core survey: Supporting measures

Area	Description
Bullying	How many employees believe that they have personally experienced bullying, whether a formal complaint was submitted and if they were satisfied with how their complaint was handled.
Discrimination	How many employees believe that they have personally experienced discrimination in the workplace (based on attributes described in the Victorian Equal Opportunity Act 2010), as well as the type of discrimination experienced.
Feedback	How many employees received formal or informal feedback on their performance during the last 12 months.
Job satisfaction	Employee satisfaction with the frequency of feedback, the level of autonomy within their jobs, their ability to be creative and innovative, as well as their overall satisfaction with their current role and organisation.
Employee engagement	An employee's sense of pride, attachment, inspiration, motivation and advocacy as it relates to their employing organisation. This is based on the Say, Stay and Strive model.
Intention to leave	How often employees think about leaving your organisation.
Leading change	Employee perceptions of how well senior managers provide clear strategy and direction, as well as sufficient information and timely communication about change.
Role clarity	An employee's sense of clarity about the work they are required to do in their role and how their work fits with the goals of their organisation.
Role enablers	An employee's sense that they have the skills and authority to perform their role effectively.
Intrinsic reward	An employee's personal sense of reward that they get from the work they do.
Effective promotion of policies and processes	Employee awareness of efforts to promote the public sector values, code of conduct and other key policies and procedures.
Patient safety (Health sector only)	How the culture and practices support patient safety, including error handling, training and supervision, learning from errors, ability to speak up, leadership and how comfortable employees are recommending the health service to their friends and relatives.

Ensuring your survey period does not exceed the survey window VPSC offers will avoid any additional costs.
May to June	Approximately two weeks after the VPSC receives your organisations survey data from ORIMA Research, your organisation will receive its whole of organisation results report and any employee group reports.
June	Approximately three weeks after the survey window closes, your organisation will receive its benchmark report.

4. HOW TO COMPLETE YOUR PARTICIPATION FORM

Heads of organisations and Human Resource Directors will receive an invitation email from us, providing you with a username and password to access the following web-based participation form:

<https://www.orima.com.au/vpsc/organisation/>

Please let us know whether or not you wish to participate in the survey by completing the above form.

Once you have logged in please select, via the left-hand navigation pane, the “Complete Participation Form” page to complete the form.

4.1 Are you participating?

We recommend participating in the People Matter Survey at least every two years. However, annual participation is mandated for Health Services, Public Service Departments, Victoria Police and the VPSC.

For those not mandated, please provide your reasons for not taking part.

If you elect to participate we will ask you to provide the details of your survey coordinator including survey dates, invitation options, and any modules you wish to undertake.

By participating, you agree that the survey data collected can be used by VPSC and research partners, including other public service departments and contracted service providers, to undertake research to benefit the public sector. The provision of any data to research partners, public service departments, or other parties, will be in accordance with the Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014 and the Health Records Act 2001 Act. To ensure compliance with legislative requirements, the VPSC will only conduct analysis or release data where the identity of individuals is protected and cannot be reasonably ascertained.

4.2 Nominate a survey coordinator

Please nominate a survey coordinator for your organisation. The coordinator will be the VPSC’s primary point of contact for the duration of the survey and will be responsible for promoting the survey within your organisation.

The role of the survey coordinator is to:

- provide the VPSC and ORIMA Research² all necessary information by the due date. This will avoid any additional costs
- prepare survey invitations and reminders according to your chosen method of survey invitation
- promote the survey in your organisation to maximise survey responses and participation
- communicate to staff that the survey and the reporting of results will be conducted in a way that protects the anonymity of respondents
- inform your leaders and management about the survey and encourage their promotion of the survey before and during the survey period
- monitor participation and engage with management throughout the survey period
- become familiar with all tasks required to run the survey, as outlined in this guide, such as providing your organisation composition listings, email invitations, etc.

² ORIMA Research is the VPSC’s contracted survey provider.

Optional information session

The VPSC offers information sessions for survey coordinators. We recommend that you sign up your nominated coordinator for this session if they are new to the People Matter Survey process. If you choose this option, your coordinator will receive an email informing them of the event's details.

Survey period

Please nominate a survey start and close date between the 24 April and 26 May. Please choose a two to three week period. If you suspect that you may need to extend your survey period to increase your response rate, we recommend you choose a start date closer to the 24 April. Ensuring your survey period does not exceed the survey window VPSC offers will avoid any additional costs.

Total employee count

Please provide us with the number of employees in your organisation. This will be used to calculate the response rate of your survey.

Paper surveys

The use of paper surveys is not recommended and will incur costs. If your organisation wishes to use paper surveys, your coordinator should contact ORIMA Research at peoplematter@orima.com.

4.3 Survey invitation preferences

Organisations are given two invitation choices to choose from.

Invitation by personalised link

A personalised link is sent to employees' personal email address inviting them to participate. The email is able to be customised including an address to employees by name.

Choosing this option means:

- ORIMA research (our third party provider) can track the status of each individual, emailing a reminder to those that have not completed the survey, further into the survey period
- each participant can pause and resume the survey if interrupted, using the unique survey link provided within their invitation email

The email addresses used in this process will not be stored after the survey period ends, and will not be linked to survey responses, in order to protect the privacy and anonymity of employees.

You will also be provided with a generic survey link. This means you can give employees access to the survey if they have accidentally deleted their personalised email link, or if their correct details were not supplied to VPSC in time. The link can also be broadcasted on your organisation's intranet site for everyone to access.

Invitation by generic link only

A generic survey link is provided to the survey coordinator who distributes the link to employees via the survey invitation email. We also recommend broadcasting the generic link on your organisation's intranet.

Choosing this option means:

- survey coordinator will be responsible for sending employees the link with an invitation to participate, via email

- survey coordinator will be responsible for emailing a reminder to staff encouraging them to complete the survey if they have not yet done so
- a survey participant will also be able to use an automatically generated password that will allow them to re-continue the survey at a later time if they are unable to complete the survey in one session.

4.4 Choosing modules

For most public sector organisations the survey modules, as described on page 8, are optional. Please only select modules if you have a strong commitment to acting on the results as they add length to the survey. The VPSC encourages all organisations to undertake the wellbeing module.

Please note that some or all modules are mandatory if your organisation belongs to one of the following groups:

Health Services

The Department of Health and Human Services advised VPSC that your organisation's participation in the 2017 survey is mandatory. This includes the core survey as well as the following survey modules:

- wellbeing,
- diversity and inclusion, and
- sexual Harassment modules.

A further three optional survey modules are offered for organisations that wish to seek more in-depth information on: change management; career intention; and learning and development.

Victorian Secretaries Board (VSB) organisations (all Departments, Victoria Police and the Victorian Public Sector Commission) are asked to complete all six modules. This follows the Victorian Secretaries Board meeting on 17 February 2016, where it was agreed that all VSB organisations will participate in both the core survey and all six modules in 2017 and 2018.

5. REPORTING

Up to four standard reports (Table 5) will be produced after your survey has closed. These will be made available on the VPSC's online storage portal:

https://reports.vpsc.vic.gov.au/Online_Storage_Portal/

Nominated report recipients will receive a notification email when the reports are available on the portal.

Samples of these reports are available on the VPSC website.

Table 5 – VPSC PMS report suite

Report Type	Description	Recipients ³	Expected delivery
Organisation Results Report	A detailed breakdown of your results at the organisational level.	Head of organisation Human Resource Directors Survey Coordinators	May to June ⁴
Employee Group Report (Only provided if organisation structure or composition questions are used in survey)	Results at the employee group level, as specified by your organisation's structure and composition. Please note that demographic data is excluded at this level to protect the anonymity of your employees.	Human Resource Directors Survey Coordinators	May to June ⁴
Benchmark Report/s	Results at the organisation level compared to the results of like organisations and previous years. Separate reports are produced for the results of each additional module, if used.	Head of organisation Human Resource Directors Survey Coordinators	June
Free Text Comment Report	Unedited free text comments from employees who wished to provide further feedback to your organisation.	Head of organisation ⁵	June

Please note: (a) the core survey was revised in 2016 resulting in changes to the majority of questions. Comparative results from before 2016 may not be available. (b) to make a request for any additional reports, please contact the VPSC in writing. The production of these non-standard reports may incur a fee.

³ The circulation details may change if requested by the head of your organisation.

⁴ Approximately two weeks after the VPSC receives your data from ORIMA Research.

⁵ Due to the sensitivity of the content in the free text comment report it will only be sent directly to the head of your organisation

6. PROMOTING THE SURVEY

Promoting the survey to managers and employees will help achieve a high response rate.

We recommend that your organisation formulates a communication strategy to help achieve buy in from executives, line managers and employees. This includes letting employees know how the results will be communicated after the survey.

The following suggestions may be used to help you form an effective promotional campaign and communication strategy.

Before the survey

- Conduct a promotional campaign one to two weeks before your survey is due to start
- Display promotional posters around the workplace. See: www.vpsc.vic.gov.au/people-matter-survey
- Request that your CEO sends a bulletin to all staff endorsing the survey
- Promote the survey on your intranet page. We recommend broadcasting the generic link to the survey (unless you prefer to use personalised survey links only) and utilising the material available within the VPSC website
- Promote anonymity of the survey to encourage participation

During the survey

- Encourage managers to promote participation in the survey
- Encourage people to set 20 to 30 minutes aside to complete the survey
- Offer linked incentives such as a team morning tea following survey completion
- Use 'pop ups' on employees' computers when they log on as a reminder to complete the survey
- Create a friendly competition to see which team can achieve the best survey response rate.

After the survey

- Encourage senior leaders to thank staff for participating in the survey
- Present the results to your employees in a suitable format (audio-visual presentation, email, forum etc.)
- Establish a working group to target a specific theme identified within the survey results, sharing recommendations across the organisation
- Actively engage employees through workshops and planning meetings in developing strategies to address survey results
- Prioritise actions that are achievable and present results in annual reports
- Incorporate actions into strategic, business, divisional, quality, OH&S and HR plans

7. ANONYMITY

Survey anonymity is a priority to the VPSC. Responses from individual employees are kept confidential and strict rules are in place to safeguard this at every stage of the survey process. VPSC is committed to responsible privacy practices and is subject to the Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014 and the Health Records Act 2001.

There are several ways anonymity is protected during and after the survey:

- The VPSC only receives de-identified data from ORIMA. Participant's name, email and computer IP address cannot be collected or tracked by either the VPSC or your organisation. Responses cannot be traced back to participants.
- Individual survey responses will not be provided to your organisation.
- VPSC survey result reports only show summarised results for groups with 10 or more survey responses. For example, if a workgroup has fewer than 10 responses from females, the report will not show the summarised views and opinions of this small group to avoid the potential of identification.
- Participants have the opportunity to write comments at the end of the survey. These free text comments will be supplied to your organisation head via a separate report and not broken down by division, branch and unit. We encourage you to advise participants to avoid including any words that may identify them if they provide comments.
